Coat of Arms

Historiography

Briner

The Briner Coat of Arms illustrated left was drawn by an heraldic artist from information officially recorded in ancient heraldic archives. Documentation for the Briner Coat of Arms design can be found in Rietstap Armorial General. Heraldic artists of old developed their own unique language to describe an individual Coat of Arms. In their language, the Arms (shield) is as follows:

"De sa. a la fasce d'or."
When translated the Arms description is:
"Black; a gold middle third."

Above the shield and helmet is the Crest which is described as:
Deux prob. fasces d'arg. et de gu. de quatre pieces,
sommées chacune d'un panache de plumes de coq de sa."

A translation of the Crest description is:
"Two elephant trunks divided horizontally in four pieces silver and red, out of each is black rooster feathers."

Family mottoes are believed to have originated as battle cries in medieval times.
A Motto was not recorded with the Briner Coat of Arms.

Individual surnames originated for the purpose of more specific identification.
The four primary sources for second names were: occupation, location, father's name and personal characteristics. The surname Briner appears to be patronymical in origin, and is believed to be associated with the English and Germans, meaning,
"descendant of Briner, pet form of Briner." The supplementary sheet included with this report is designed to give you more information to further your understanding of the origin of names. Different spellings of the same original surname are a common occurrence. Dictionaries of surnames indicate probable spelling variations.
The most prominent variations of Briner are Briners, Breiner and Breiners.

Census records available disclose the fact there are approximately 500 heads of households in the United States with the old and distinguished Briner name.
The United States Census Bureau estimates there are approximately 3.2 persons per household in America today which yields an approximate total of 1600 people in the United States carrying the Briner name. Although the figure seems relatively low, it does not signify the many important contributions that individuals bearing the Briner name have made to history.

No genealogical representation is intended or implied by this report and it does not represent individual lineage or your family tree.

The President has requested that the enclosed certificate be sent in memory of your beloved, deceased veteran. If this certificate contains an error, or arrives in an unacceptable condition, or if you wish additional certificates for other family members, please write to the following address:

To the John Brown family
are two reunion pictures.

The picture with more relatives
attending was in 1940.

The other picture I believe to be in 1953.

I can recognize more relatives from the picture of 1940 than the one of 1953.

I hope you can recognize these folks with delightful memories.
